SEARCH FUNCTIONS

Consult the library catalogue LUBcat to find out what literature the libraries hold and whether it is available for lending. You can check your loans as well as order and request materials. LUBsearch is a platform for electronic resources such as e-books, databases, online dictionaries, reference books and articles from e-journals, often available in full text. There are also several other search systems.

LU-CARD/LIBRARY CARD

The LU card is valid at all Lund University Libraries, but there might be variations in what materials you can borrow and for how long. To get and activate a library account, follow the instructions on the LUBcat start page. If you are not affiliated to Lund University you will receive a library card instead of the LU-card. If you are a distance student, contact your library.
